DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rozon (5,993,983).

Rozon discloses a portable power supply using hybrid battery in Figs. 1 and 2. A first rechargeable energy battery (1) having a first total impedance for storing electrical energy and providing electrical power to the electrical motor at a first range of power rates, a second rechargeable power battery (3) having a second total impedance, less than the first total impedance (see col. 2, lines 34-47), for storing electrical energy and providing electrical power to the electrical motor at a second range of power rates; wherein electrical energy stored in the energy battery is provided to the driving motor in combination with electrical energy stored in the power battery and wherein the energy battery substantially continuously recharges the power battery with any excess power (see col. 3, line 22 to col. 4, line 50).

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11

Art Unit: 2838

F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-50 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 48-57 of copending Application No. 10/106,782. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the application 10/106,782 claim anticipates the present application claim.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
